

Study Skills

Disorganization is one of the greatest complaints we hear from parents and see in students! Common problems include:

- Forgetting homework at school.
- Losing homework before it gets home.
- Bringing the wrong folder or notebook home.
- Doing homework, but losing it before it can be turned in.
- Bringing the wrong folders and notebooks to class. (After all, they all look alike!)

Parents are often dumbfounded by these challenges. Students are also completely frustrated (even if their frustration is disguised as anger towards their parents or indifference towards the problem).

Disorganization is a real problem and can affect everything...grades, confidence, and relationships at home and school.

IS IT REALLY POSSIBLE TO CURE DISORGANIZATION?

Yes, it is! The reason "organization" is such a big problem is that traditional organizational systems and supplies actually make the problem WORSE! There are three specific reasons why the traditional methods for organizing fail...
